"You don't have to be an organic farmer to join the Soil Association – everyone can benefit from organic techniques"

Charles Weston

farming organic beef and sheep on 80ha near Sennybridge, Powys

Soil Association

South Plaza | Marlborough Street | Bristol BS1 3NX T 0117 314 5000 | F 0117 314 5001

www.soilassociation.org

Registered charity no. 206862

Soil Association Scotland

Tower Mains | 18c Liberton Brae | Edinburgh EH16 6AE T 0131 666 2474 | F 0131 666 1684

www.soilassociationscotland.org

Registered charity no. SC039168

© Soil Association 2010

How the Soil Association can help you...

Technical support

Telephone helpline

Our team of friendly, experienced staff are ready to answer your technical and business development questions

Technical guide and info sheets

Choose from over 50 publications covering every aspect of organic production designed to help you make informed decisions

Training and learning events

From inspirational national conferences to specialist training courses and farm walks, we organise a range of quality events tailored to your needs

Keep you informed

Organic Farming magazine

Our 56-page journal is packed with practical information and advice – a must read for farmers and growers alike

Monthly eBulletin

All the latest news, market trends and opportunities, as well as training and events, straight to your inbox

Website

Access to our extensive web-based resources, including up-to-date price data, marketing contacts, technical literature, classifieds and more

Developing your market

Market intelligence

Read our informative annual Organic Market Report, access current price data and identify key industry contacts

New routes to market

Find out more about selling direct to the public, schools and hospitals

Organic marketplace

Access the UK's leading on-line database for farm-to-farm sales of feed, forage, livestock, plus jobs, machinery and more

Soil Association sales and services

Access to our wide of range of books, homeware and Soil Association branded packaging

Representing you

Your voice

We work hard to keep farming high on the political agenda by representing your interest at local, national and international levels

Farmer and grower board

Elected representative group of organic producers from a range of backrounds who help steer our work and highlight your views

Changing attitudes

Your support helps our wider work inform the public about the benefits of sustainable agriculture and the importance of food and farming

Producer support package

only £75 + vat (a year)

- Telephone helpline
- Organic Farming magazine
- eBulletin
- Guides, fact sheets and briefing sheets
- Dedicated website with technical and market information, discussions, learning platforms
- Reduced fees for events, seminars and conferences

Producer membership package

only £99 + vat (a year)

- All of the above plus
- Soil Association membership
- Living Earth magazine
- Eligibilty for farmer and grower board
- Eligibilty to apply for Soil Association council

Telephone helpline
Call 0117 914 2400

Please return your completed form to Soil Association producer support
FREEPOST (RRJE-LEER-XLHK)
South Plaza
Marlborough Street
Bristol BS1 3NX

NAME ON CARD

CARD NO.

EXPIRY DATE

SIGNATURE

